On qualitative differences in learning: I—Outcome and process